Growth
 reaps the past,
 sows the future.
 Various terms seek to define a transient state of being . . .
 nebulous awareness
 mind expansion
 attitude evaluations physical development.
 Constructive change involves objectivity—observations of each other ourselves.
 It is a natural, spiritual, and philosophical search for reality for truth for God
 for the best.
 We strive for wholeness,
 the goal of growth,
 together.

Nature's system of growth provides inspiration.
 Other men specialize in areas beyond us.
 Listen and they will speak.
 Physical activity vents
 many frustrations.
 Enthusiasm is contagious—
 even a child's.
 Rain nurtures growth in plant life,
 but may bring tediousness
 to human beings.
 Scientific knowledge now springs up like a weed.
 Its domain extends to all the earth—
 and the moon.
 Yet man retains an inherent desire to hunt
 although he seldom needs
 it to survive.
 Group actions cultivate harmony and trust.
 No man can accomplish everything by himself. We need each other.

Still, individuality is mandatory to prevent stagnation.
Sports require excellence.
Excellence is a by-product of growth.
Amazing how a body can be trained.
Equally astonishing how a moment's thought,
or a draft lottery system,
starts a new direction
in one's life.

Even as a man nourishes
his physical, mental, and spiritual needs so he also learns to control his emotions.

Music can surge and purge
the inner being
if it is allowed to do so.
Humor and levity can blend.
Jobs and relaxation may contrast and combine.
Serious talk requires silent preparation.
Herein may be found perception through sight.
Events and people are pictured and described.
Images and guidance and growth come from the customary,
taken-for-granted dimensions of hearing smelling tasting feeling too, however.
Thus, this book is incomplete.

Perhaps it will recall such sensuous impressions as pounding hail laughter
 wind whistling through stripped trees
 washers and dryers footsteps heart thumps popping corn
 the smack of chewing gum polluted air
 a sea gull's plaintive cry cold and heat
 pain—aches, jabs perfume of flowers.
 If so its validity
 and value
 will be enhanced.

Maybe this book will remind one of a purple sunset's awe dull, listless depression calm satisfaction
 burst of exhilaration dismal failure
 routine of daily living sparks of friendship detachment love weariness
 rugged determination intense, alive concentration eye strain
 meditative solitude
 the wonder of life.
 All of these descriptions fit
 life and growth.
 For what is a meaningful life
 if not the growth of a human being?

Student Life

World Scope Extends to Moon

by John Luik

"It was the best of times, it was the worst of times, it was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness, it was the epoch of belief, it was the epoch of incredulity, it was the season of light, it was the season of darkness, it was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair; we had everything before us, we had nothing before us, we were all going to Heaven, we were all going direct the other way . . ."

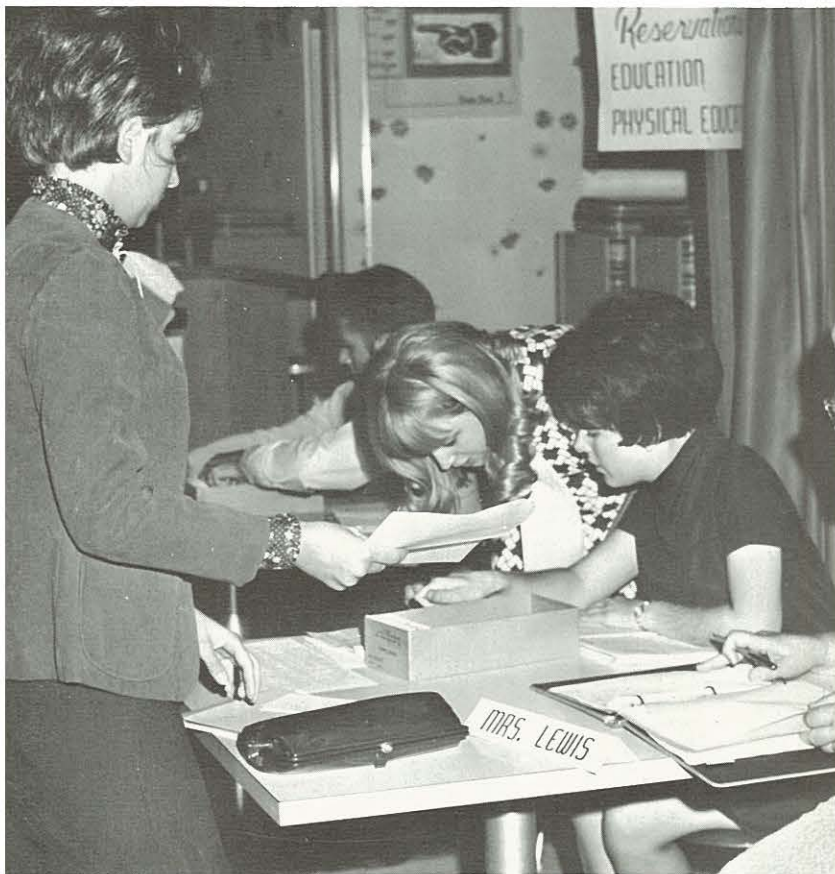

Such was our age, the age of the sixties. It was an age of ambivalence, of contrast, of diversity. We longed for peace, yet perpetuated war. We were comfortably affluent, yet desperately poor. We were generally sophisticated, occasionally barbaric; infrequently understanding, invariably intolerant. We made pretensions to wisdom, yet were incredibly foolish. We were smugly satisfied, yet strangely uneasy; perpetually optimistic, yet increasingly disillusioned; eagerly expectant, yet hesitatingly fearful. We were confident of our destination, yet uncertain of our direction; sure of our ends, yet uneasy about our means.

It was an age of shattered dreams and perverted hopes. The dream of universal affluence mocked by the grim presence of poverty, disease, and despair. The dream of equality blocked by the intransigence of prejudice. The dream of peaceful race relations shattered by the violent ugliness of hatred, bigotry, and open warfare. The dream of man's ultimate harmonization with his environment displaced by the reality of mass pollution. The dream of remaking urban America turned to the nightmare of inner-city decay and suburban sprawl. The dream of man utilizing science for the benefit of man replaced by the terrifying prospect of man using science to control man. The dream of man finding the brotherhood of peace and the fellowship of love marred by the persistent outbreaks of war and hate. The dream of man's fullest development of his rational capacities raped by the growing cult of irrationality. The dream of reconciling the generations made impossible by their seeming fascination with that which divides rather than unites them. The dream of man finding some sense of meaning, some justification for his existence mocked by the persistence of absurdity and nothingness.

It was distinctively our age, the product of our motives, however ambivalent, our efforts, however thwarted, and our dreams, however perverted. Perhaps in our endless diversity and contrast lies our greatest potential for greatness, as well as for disaster. Perhaps our only chance of success is in finding the balance between individual differences and universal similarities. Perhaps we will yet find that "hope beyond hopelessness," that "transcendence of despair" which will enable us to survive.

Crusaders Finish With 19-10 Record

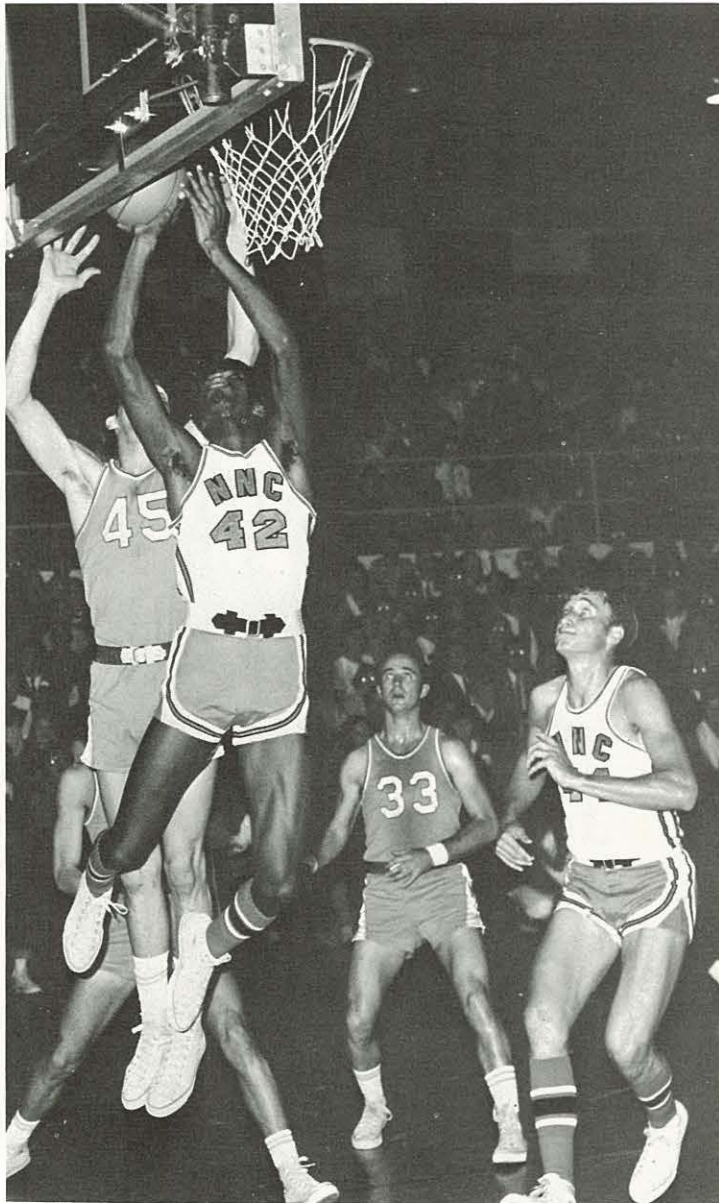

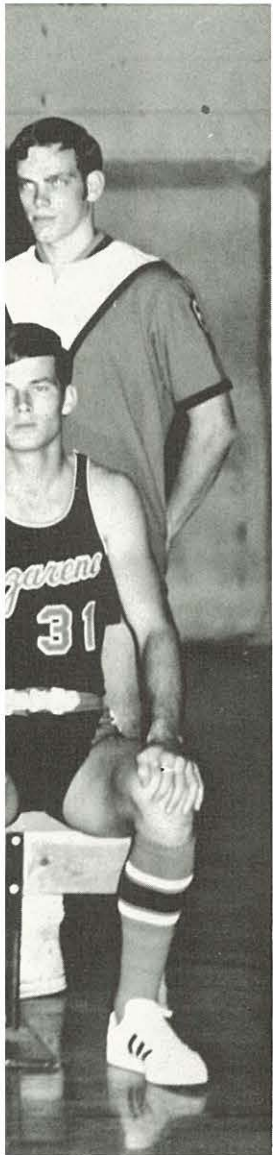

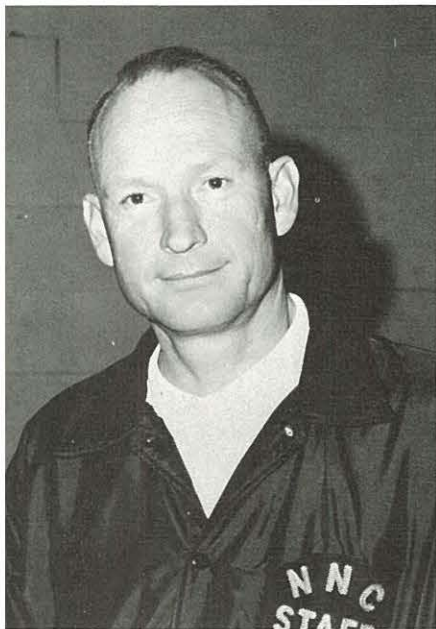

The N. N. C. basketball team had another fine season this year just missing the district play-offs by one game. Most of the games were real battles. N.N.C. barely outscored the opponents with a game average of 77.9 while allowing the other teams to average 71.3.

Right: Coach Hills and Coach Vail provided expert leadership for both the Varsity and J.V. teams against such formidable opposition as Westminster College and Boise State College.

Coach Hills will lose four seniors off his squad for next year.

Gary Lawson was top scorer and rebounder, averaging 14.6 points and 14.3 rebounds per game. John "Rock" Simmons was close behind Lawson in both departments. For their efforts both were named to the Nazarene Intercollegiate Athletic Association All-Star team.

Valuable assistance was provided by Steve Sharp, Bob Luhn, and Al Blacklock, the other starters. Excellent guarding by each of them saved many points.

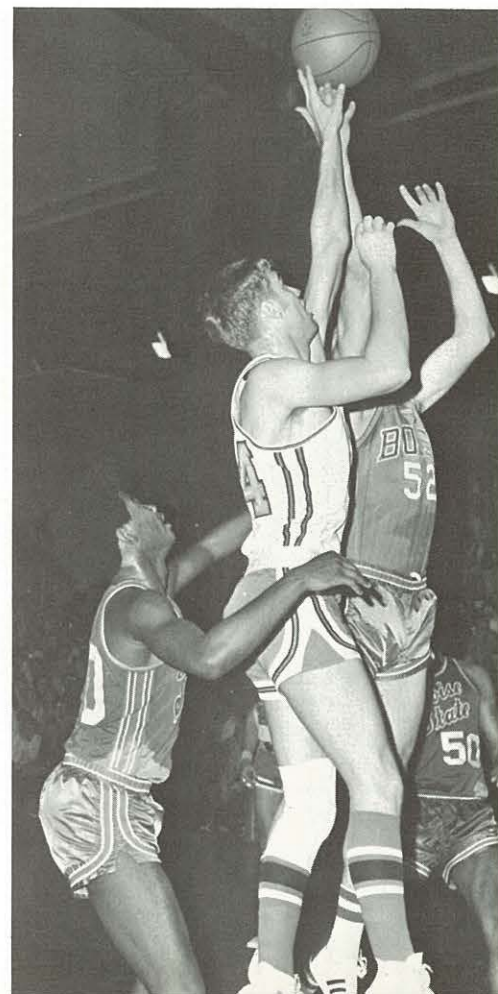

Sophomores Denny Johnson, Dave Higgs, Ken Wilde and Laird Graham were able to gain experience which should provide for several more years of exciting basketball at N.N.C.

Sam Frazier, wrestling in the 150 pound class, won 16 of his 17 matches this year. In the process he brought the college its first NAIA District Championship. He finished by competing in the thirteenth annual NAIA National Wrestling Championships at Superior, Wisconsin.

Chuck Geselle, seen in action above and talking to the coach at top, won 16 of his 18 matches and was team co-captain along with Frazier.

The 1969-70 wrestling season at Northwest Nazarene College saw the Crusaders complete their best record ever, 6-5. Although the grapplers began their season with eighteen men reporting to practice, competition ended with only nine men.

Dave McCallum took part in the action at the district tournament.

Track 1970 Featured Individual Performances

Doug Money carried the laurels for N.N.C. in the 21st Northwest Nazarene Invitational winning the Outstanding Performance trophy by vote of the coaches. Money was also elected the track team's Most Outstanding Athlete by bringing victories in the 880 and mile run throughout the season.

Coach Hills, Dave McCallum, Dave Perkins, Doug Money, Don Keller, Chuck Robinson, and Dave Mangum. Not shown are Terry Cantrell, Wayne Walker, Dave Mortimer, and Steve Phelps.

Thinclads Made Things Fly in District Competition

Coach Hills summed up the season as one of great success for four or five individuals, but disappointing because of a lack of team members.

Best times for participants this year were as follows: 440 Relay—Mangum, Walker, Perkins, Miller, :46.1; Mile Run—Money, 4:19.8; High Hurdles—Cantrell, :15.0; 440—Mangum, :53.6; 100—Mangum, :10.1; 880—Money, 2:00.7; 330 Intermediate Hurdles—Cantrell, :42.1; 440 Intermediate Hurdles—Cantrell, :57.1; 220—Mangum, :23.1; 2 Mile—Keller, 9:52.8; 3 Mile—Keller, 14:54.9; Mile Relay—Mangum, Perkins, Walker, Money, 3:39; Long Jump—Perkins, 20'6 $\frac{3}{4}$ "; Triple Jump—Perkins, 41'0"; High Jump—Phelps, 6'0"; Javelin—McCallum, 171'3"; Shot—Mortimer, 38'10"; Discus—Robinson, 119'.

Chuck Robinson, a senior and captain of the team this year, shows his re-entry technique.

Wayne Walker had a fine season as a member of the mile and 440 relay teams.

Don Keller, whose performance in the season's 3 mile competition earned him the team's Most Improved Athlete and whose personal life brought him Most Inspirational Athlete, won the 3 mile at the district meet and came home with the All District II NAIA Honor Athlete Award.

Sophomore Dave Perkins achieved the team's best marks in the long jump and triple jump and worked hard to create winning 440 and mile relay teams.

Extramurals for Women Initiated

The women's Extramural teams let everyone know they were serious by racking up a successful season of inter-collegiate competition. The basketball team surprised everyone but the coach by working their way through an eight game season against College of Idaho, Eastern Oregon College and Treasure Valley College without a loss.

The women's tennis team ended their season with a 6-1 record and sent four girls to the Northwest Women's Extramural Tennis Tournament, two of whom, Judy Chadwick and Karen Bruner, made it to the quarter finals in the singles bracket.

In the E.O.C. Invitational Track Meet Pat Price broke the meet High jump record by 4 inches and Elsie Gestrin broke the 100 yard dash record by 2 tenths of a second.

Crusading Linkmen Earn a Successful Season

The Crusader linkmen completed their 1970 season tying with OCE for second place at the NAIA district golf tournament in Portland, Oregon.

Overall the season would have to be considered a success. The dual record for the team was a bright 12-2, losing only to Whitman College during an early season opener.

Shown at right is senior Bob Taylor. His contribution to the squad was noted by his selection as the outstanding N.N.C. golfer for the year.

Shown at right is Rick Hartwig who was the only Crusader to make the all-district team with a 152 total as the number three medalist.

The 1970 Golf team included Bob Croft, Rick Hartwig, Coach Horwood, Bob Taylor, Monty Ortman, Lon Barnhouse.

Team achievements for the year included fielding average of .963, twenty points above the teams previous best and a team E.R.A. of 2.78 which is the best in the last six years.

Tom Litsey, the senior third baseman, was presented with the R.B.I. award for the year.

Bob VanderSluis received the outstanding pitcher award with a total of 3 wins, 2 losses and 2 ties, both of which were extra inning affairs. Fifty strikeouts in fifty one innings was also listed as one of his achievements.

The squad elected Tom Litsey to be named captain for the year. His leadership helped to mold the team into a competitive unit.

Ron Frank, senior first baseman, for the third consecutive year, was honored as the most inspirational player.

The outstanding player award as voted by the staff was presented in recognition of the splendid record accomplished this year by Bob VanderSluis. Further recognition was given to VanderSluis when he was named to the District II NAIA All-Star Team. Ron Frank received honorable mention for his fine play.

The Crusaders closed out the season with a split at George Fox College losing the first game 3-4 but coming back in the nightcap to win 18-1 with Tim Wheatly picking up the win with a one-hitter.

Dave Boschker, freshman catcher, concluded the season with a batting average of .417 to win the top hitter award. A new award this year, the most improved player award, was given to Boschker for his consistent play.

Students Sponsor Own Football Game

N.N.C. men once again combined energies to form a highly competitive football team and accepted the challenges of the Nampa Jaycees. It was the second annual event. Coached by Bill Venn, the game was a chance to exhibit skill in tackle football. The game was entirely student sponsored and was not a part of NNC's intercollegiate sports program.

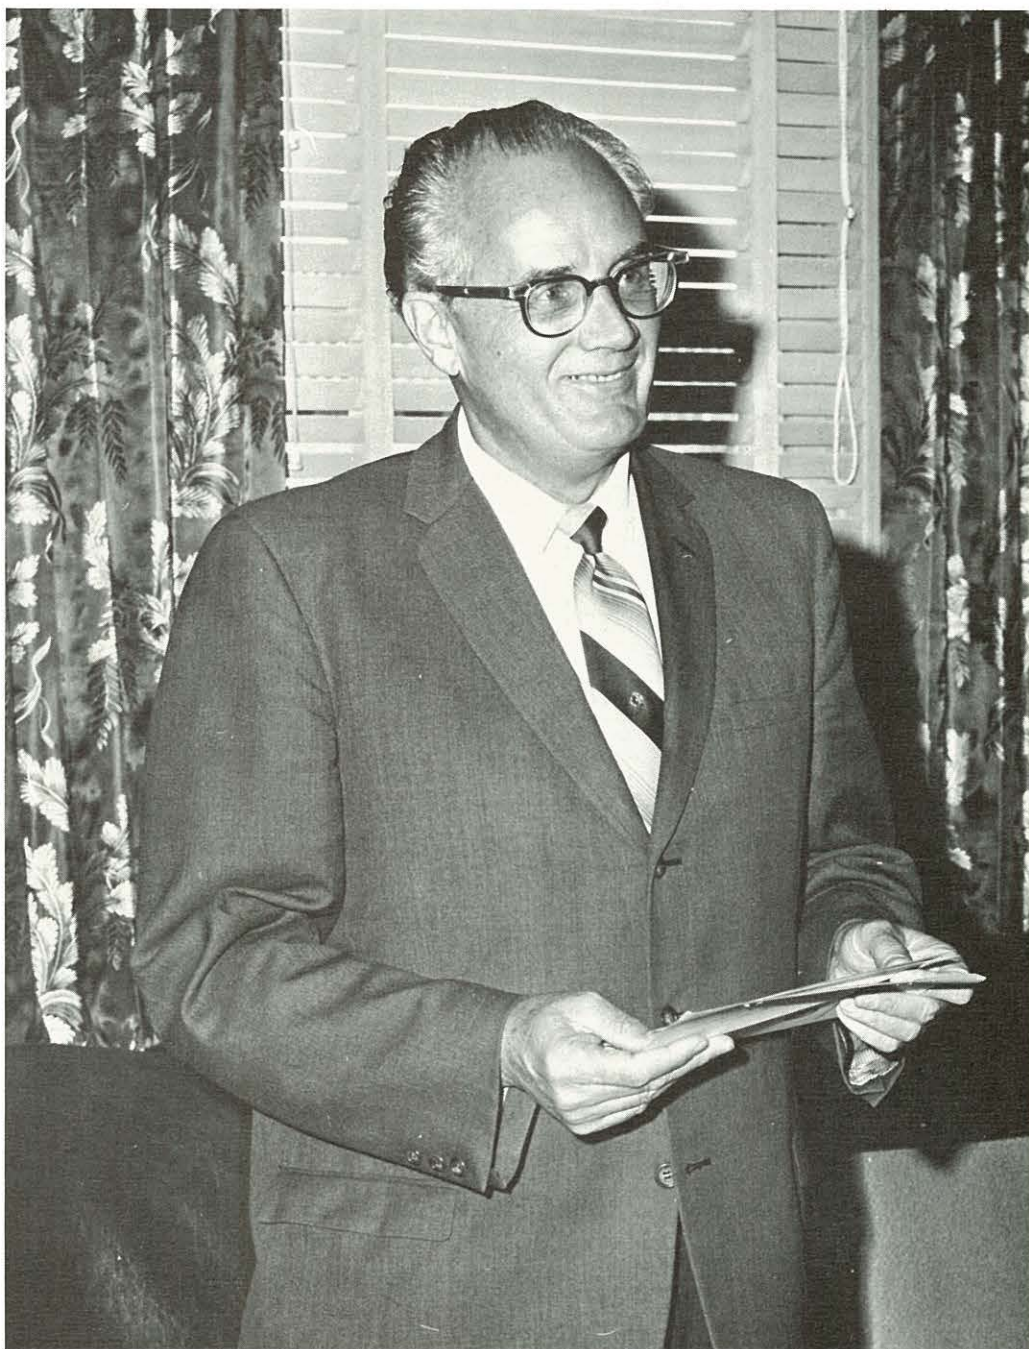

Intramural Sports Attract Many Students

For those students who enjoy athletics but are unable to participate in varsity sports the intramural program provided an excellent outlet. Women, as well as men, participated in the sports ranging from football to shuffleboard.

Dr. and Mrs. Riley were granted a leave of absence in order to take a world tour. They will visit Asia, Europe, and Africa.

Alternative proposals for financing the gymnasium are under study. Students responded quite favorably to a suggestion for an additional tax.

In other action, the Regents honored Miss Annie Laurie Bird, Mr. C. Griffith Bratt, Senator Frank Church, and Rev. Raymond Kratzer with honorary doctorates, added Dr. Thelma B. Culver and Dr. L. Wesley Johnson to the list of faculty emeriti, and cited Mrs. L. Alline Swann for outstanding service upon retirement.

Vice Presidents Active

Vice President

Judy Carpenter

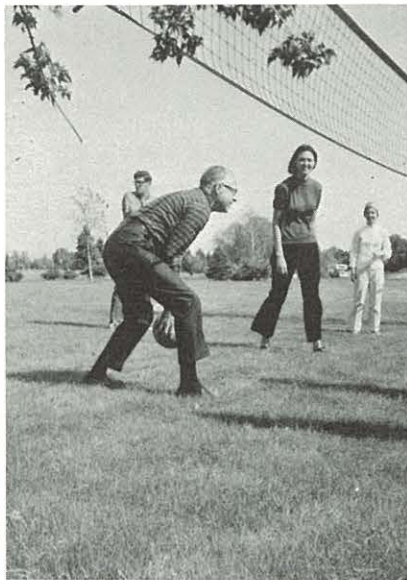

Dr. Joseph H. Mayfield has hefted the burden of chairing two new student-faculty committees. The Publications Board and the Personnel Council have added to the administrative load of the Vice President in Charge of Campus Life. He has consistently been involved in community affairs as well. A past president of the local Rotary chapter, Dr. Mayfield was elected to serve next year as District Rotary Governor.

In his first full year as Vice President of Development, Mr. Gerald Fosbenner travelled extensively as a public relations medium. Student representatives attended District Assemblies with him. He also accompanied the Crusader Choir on its spring tour.

Mr. Fosbenner's predecessor, Dr. L. Wesley Johnson, attained the rank of Vice President of Development Emeritus.

Culver Designated Dean Emerita

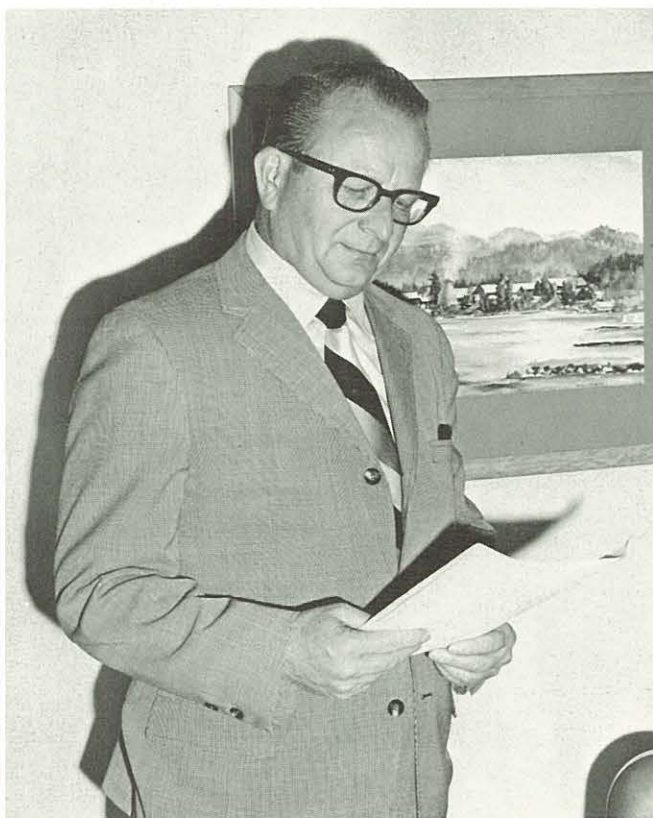

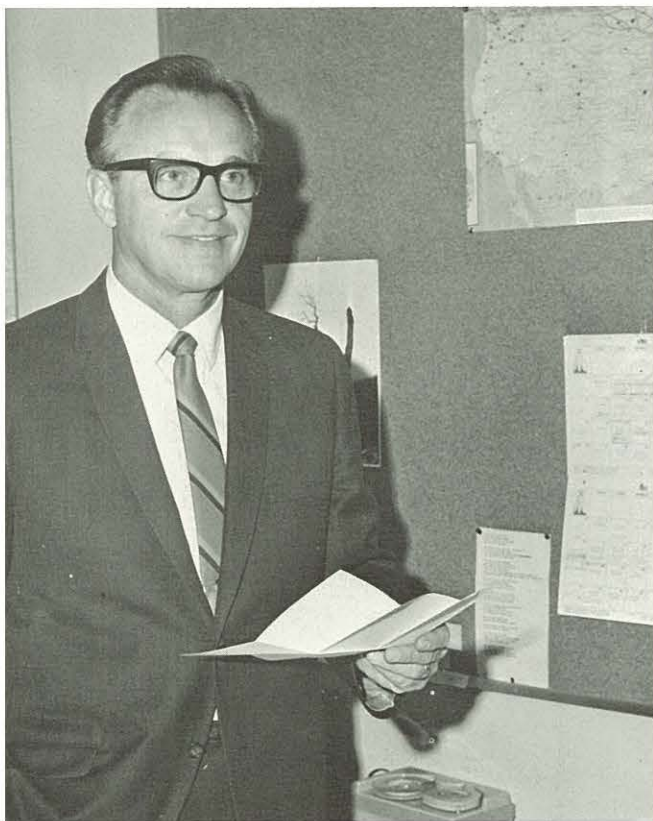

Dr. Thelma B. Culver will bear the title of Dean Emerita for her twenty-four years of conscientious service as Academic Dean. Under her leadership NNC advanced in its teacher education program in particular, attaining the status of membership in the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education. She will continue as a faculty member in the Non-Western Studies department, a program which she initiated.

Mr. Ken Meenach continued to guide the increasingly active and expanding Alumni Association.

Mr. Marvin Sporleder completed his contribution to NNC as Development Representative. He accepted a similar position at Pasadena College.

Mr. John Anderson responsibly handled the student financial assistance, an aid used by two-thirds of the student body. More than $750,000 is involved in the forms of work-study programs, grants, loans, and scholarships.

Library Adds Asian Collection

As a step towards achieving a complete program, the library continues to develop the area of non-Western studies. A recently completed Asian Collection of 1,000 volumes now offers interested students a wide variety of material.

The Xerox machine, greatly appreciated by students and faculty alike, continues to provide valuable service.

Theology Seen as Contemporary

The Division of Philosophy and Religion is responsible for providing each year: 1) a Bible survey course for all freshmen; 2) a study of Christian doctrine for all sophomores; 3) an option of philosophy, Bible, or theology for all upper division students.

In addition to offering four majors (philosophy, religion, religious education, and pre-seminary studies), the division also provides general guidance for all ministerial students and Christian workers, whatever their major.

All three members of the division, as well as Dr. Riley, attended a theological conference involving all the Nazarene colleges. The format was major papers, reaction papers, and discussions. The participants were reassured that the Church is relevant.

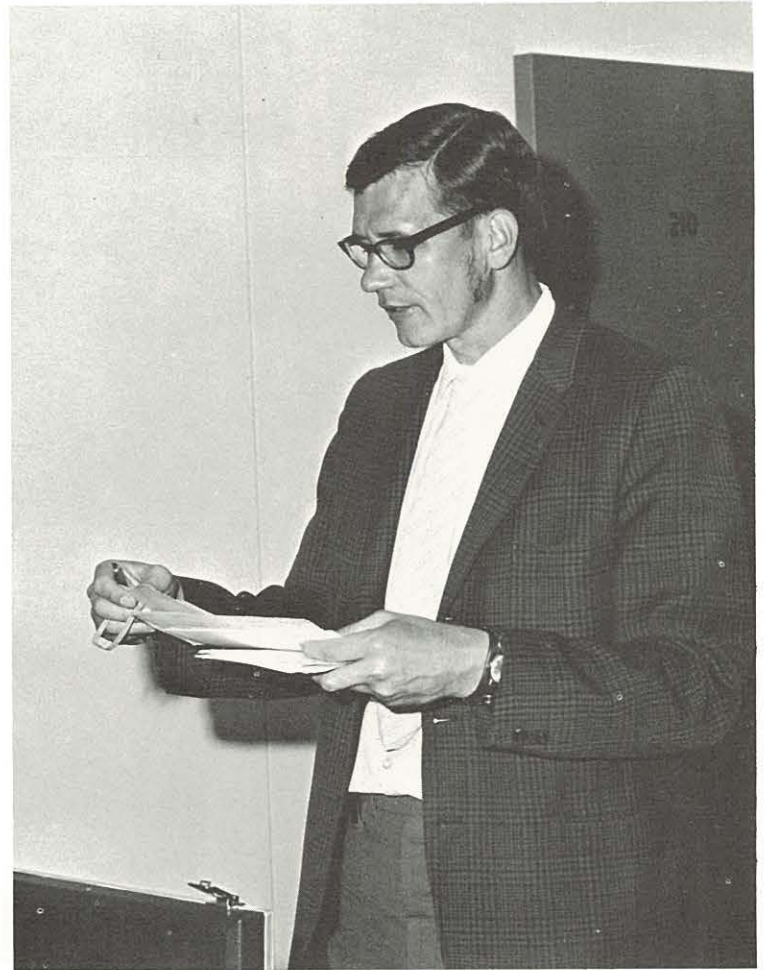

NNC Wins Fourth State Debate Cup

NNC hosted the Idaho Speech Conference on campus in February. With a total of six schools participating, the debate team of John Luik and Lynda Campbell took first in the state. This was the fourth consecutive year NNC has captured the debate trophy.

German and French will become first teaching fields, comparable to English and most other academic subjects next year.

Education Professor Directs Children's Drama

Another successful children's drama, directed by Mel Schroeder, NNC's Educational Media Director, was performed six times this spring. The authentic sets for "The Emperor's New Clothes" were among the most elaborate and colorful ever constructed.

With the emphasis on quality teachers, NNC added another professor with a doctorate to its education department. Dr. Paul Miller has assumed responsibility particularly in the realm of educational media.

P. E. Department Plans for New Gym

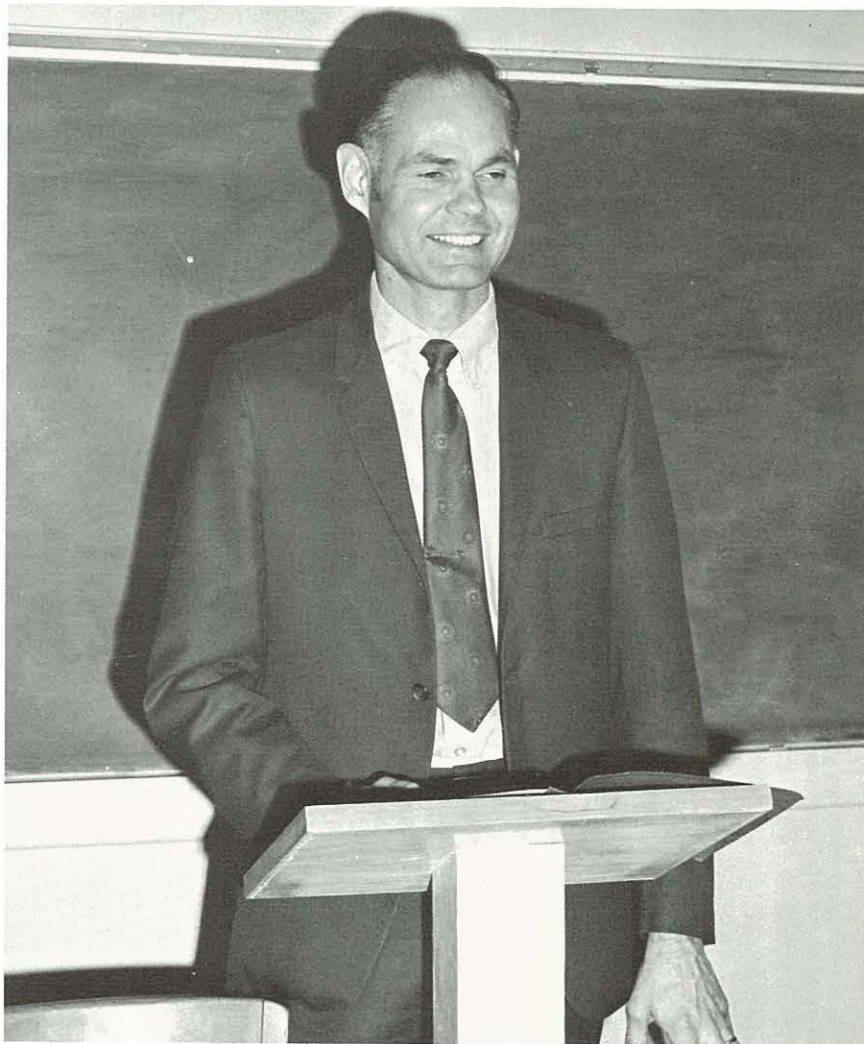

The physical education department was complemented this year by the addition of Dr. and Mrs. Horwood to the staff. Dr. Horwood now chairs the department. Miss Hopkins will be on leave in an effort to finish her work for a doctorate.

Since plans for the construction of the new gymnasium have been delayed, alternative financial proposals are being considered. Upon acquiring a federal loan, the building will be begun immediately.

M. U. N. and Asian Institute Aid Study of Modern History

This year's Model United Nations' NNC representation took the position of Turkey. Model U.N. recreates the actual working details of the United Nations with the students conducting a study of the culture, government, foreign policies, and national attitudes.

Dr. James Stewart-Robinson, an Asian Institute speaker, gave students a synopsis of the attitudes of Turks toward foreign countries and policies.

Discovering the Other

America Class Expands

Eighteen students and faculty sponsors again drove to San Francisco during spring break in an attempt to learn about racial and poverty problems. The group exchanged dialogue with various members of low income groups, the Black Panthers, and ministers.

Guest speakers made up the calendar for Monday convocations. Featured was the Rev. Charles Belcher, a black minister from the Downes Memorial Methodist Church in Oakland. After speaking in a chapel service, the guests often spent the day on campus

Other guest speakers included local attorneys, James Schiller, William Brauner, and Robert Smith, Mr. Stanley Crow, a member of the Idaho Commission on Human Rights, pacifist David Cheal, and an Idaho newspaperman, Bill Hall.

Bloomquist Earns Highest Degree

Mr. Marvin Bloomquist completed his Doctor of Music Arts, Vocal, degree in December, 1969. The University of Missouri at Kansas City Conservatory of Music awarded the highest degree. The accepted dissertation was "Songs of Ned Rorem: Aspects of the Musical Setting of Songs in English for Solo Voice and Piano." Bloomquist analyzed over one hundred compositions by Ned Rorem.

Swann Cited for Service

By action of the Board of Regents, Mrs. L. Alline Swann was commended for her twenty-seven year term of service. The official action occurred at graduation.

The combined College and Crusader choirs performed the well-known symphonic piece Gloria, with the Boise Philharmonic. The 150-voice choir delivered an exciting performance under the direction of Marvin Stallcop.

Another highlight of the year was the spring Madrigal concert. The Madrigals were especially successful in captivating and delighting the audiences when they performed selections from the Broadway musical, "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown."

The art department was enhanced by several groups of traveling paintings and a kiln, which was partially paid for by the spring pottery sale.

Ford to be Vice President for Academic Affairs

From a Harvard graduate to Junior Physicist with Manhattan District Project, from lecturing to research, Dr. Ford's thoroughness has earned him such a high reputation that he will become NNC's first Vice President for Academic Affairs. This position will replace that of Academic Dean, but will entail many of the same duties and responsibilities.

Science Departments Sponsor Conferences

The Mathematics Department featured a series of guest lectures third term. A professor from Washington State University, Dr. Donald Bushaw, and Mr. Carlton Bryson, a Portland, Oregon public school's teacher highlighted the programs. Bryson, an NNC graduate, was chosen as Oregon's Teacher of the Year for this year.

An institute for high school physics teachers was held on the NNC campus for the second consecutive year. It was a part of the Harvard Physics Program.

Student Government Restructured

In one of the most significant actions this year, student government broke itself into distinctly legislative and executive branches. A Student Senate type of legislative body will be initiated next year. The five ASB officers will constitute the Executive Council.

Early in the year, Student Council spent several meetings appointing students to student-faculty committees, including the new Personnel Council and Publications Board. The latter was a source of much discussion later in the year.

In other business, the Council increased fees and considered N.N.C.'s role in the Nazarene Student Leadership Conference. An attempt to ban compulsory freshmen initiation failed due to a vote of the whole student body. Very active this year, Student Council often met more than once a week.

Oasis Depicts '69-'70

Last year's annual, Oasis '69, received a B plus rating. Based on the constructive insights offered in the judge's critique, Oasis '70 will hopefully improve its quality.

This yearbook cannot possibly include all of the year's events. And even those recorded do not wholly represent the complexity of the sensations received during the year 1969-'70.

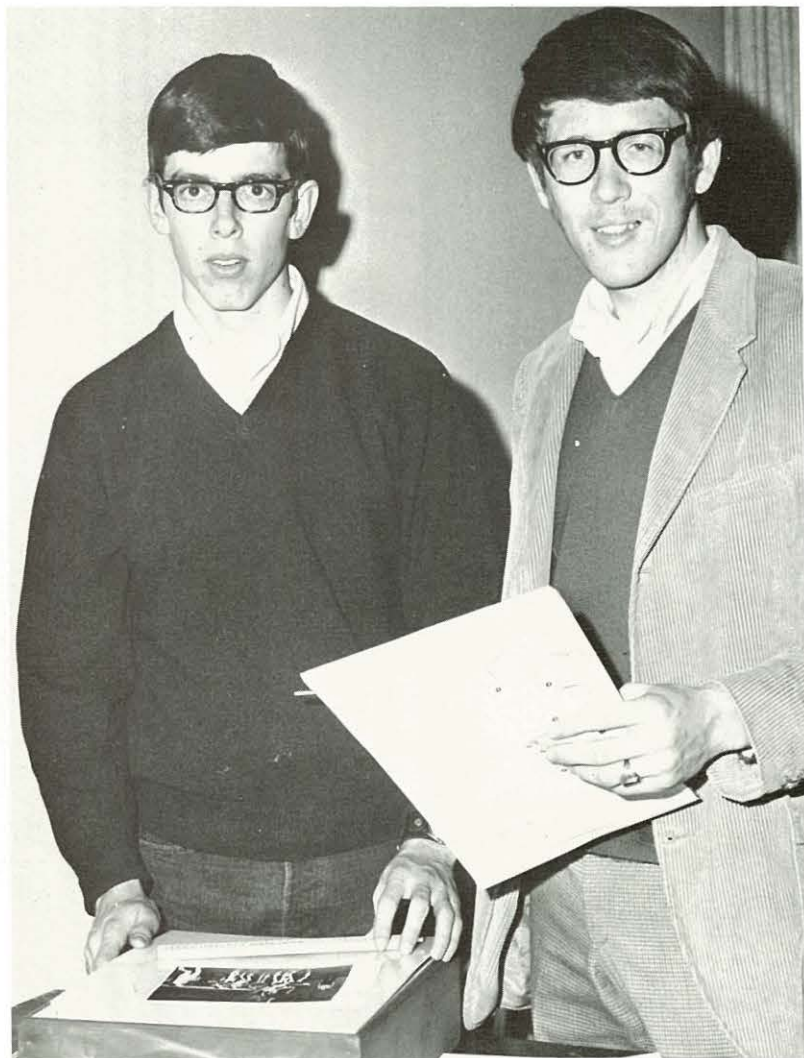

But the staff members exerted their efforts to produce in words and pictures a book that will recall the growth we all experienced at Northwest Nazarene College. Not shown is Paula Hauser who designed the cover and title page.

Crusader Functions Under New Policy

Under suspension, the Crusader did not publish first term. A joint student-faculty Publications Board was established to determine the policy under which it should operate. The Board met regularly all year to formulate a policy and propose amendments to the ASB constitution.

The eight-page weekly chiefly dealt with campus news. It also included regular columns, such as "One Small Voice," "ASG," and "Black Truth." Issues like pollution, Discovering the Other America seminar, Biafra, and the draft were featured.

KCRH Provides FM Music

KCRH greatly expanded its activities this year, adding Saturday broadcasts, plus more coverage of student events.

Besides broadcasting light study music on weeknights and symphony music on Sunday, KCRH featured a number of student forums and a children's broadcast for community children.

Model U. N. Represents Turkey

Above: Scriblerus

Scriblerus is open to all students who want to read contemporary books for the monthly meetings. English majors are especially encouraged to attend.

Some of this year's books were Ayn Rand's Fountainhead; Ralph Ellison's Invisible Man; Vladimir Nabokov's Pale Fire; and Borland's When Legends Die.

Left: Model U. N.

Model United Nations met frequently throughout second and third terms to study Turkey, the country N.N.C. was chosen to represent at the West District M.U.N. Convention in April. Ten students attended.

This year's study was aided by James Stewart-Robinson, a guest lecturer for Asisan Institute.

Associated Women's Students promotes activities for college women. Big-Little Sister Tea, to which older students invited assigned freshmen, is a preliminary get-together.

During Heart Sister Week in February, students exchange anonymous gifts. Twirp Week is another AWS activity.

Bottom: Judicial Board

The Women's Board of Judicial Review is the women students' official voice in matters governing them.

Since most matters deal with women's dorm policies, the board is composed of representatives from each dorm, as well as one from off-campus.

The major issue this year concerned overnight and weekend passes.

Sociology Club Assists March of Dimes

This Page: S. N. E. A.

The N.N.C. chapter of Student National Education Association participated in the decisions and voting on the new S.N.E.A. constitution.

They talked by amplified telephone with J. R. Picot, National President of Black History at one meeting. In another session, sanctions were discussed.

Opp. Top: Sociology Club

During Sociology Club meetings this year, there was much discussion of current social topics, such as poverty, community health, and drug abuse.

The group took a field trip to the Idaho State School and Hospital.

In addition, they assisted in the March of Dimes campaign.

Opp. Right: Marshall Science

Under the leadership of Ben Buchanan, Marshall Science was rejuvenated this year. It had lain dormant for two years.

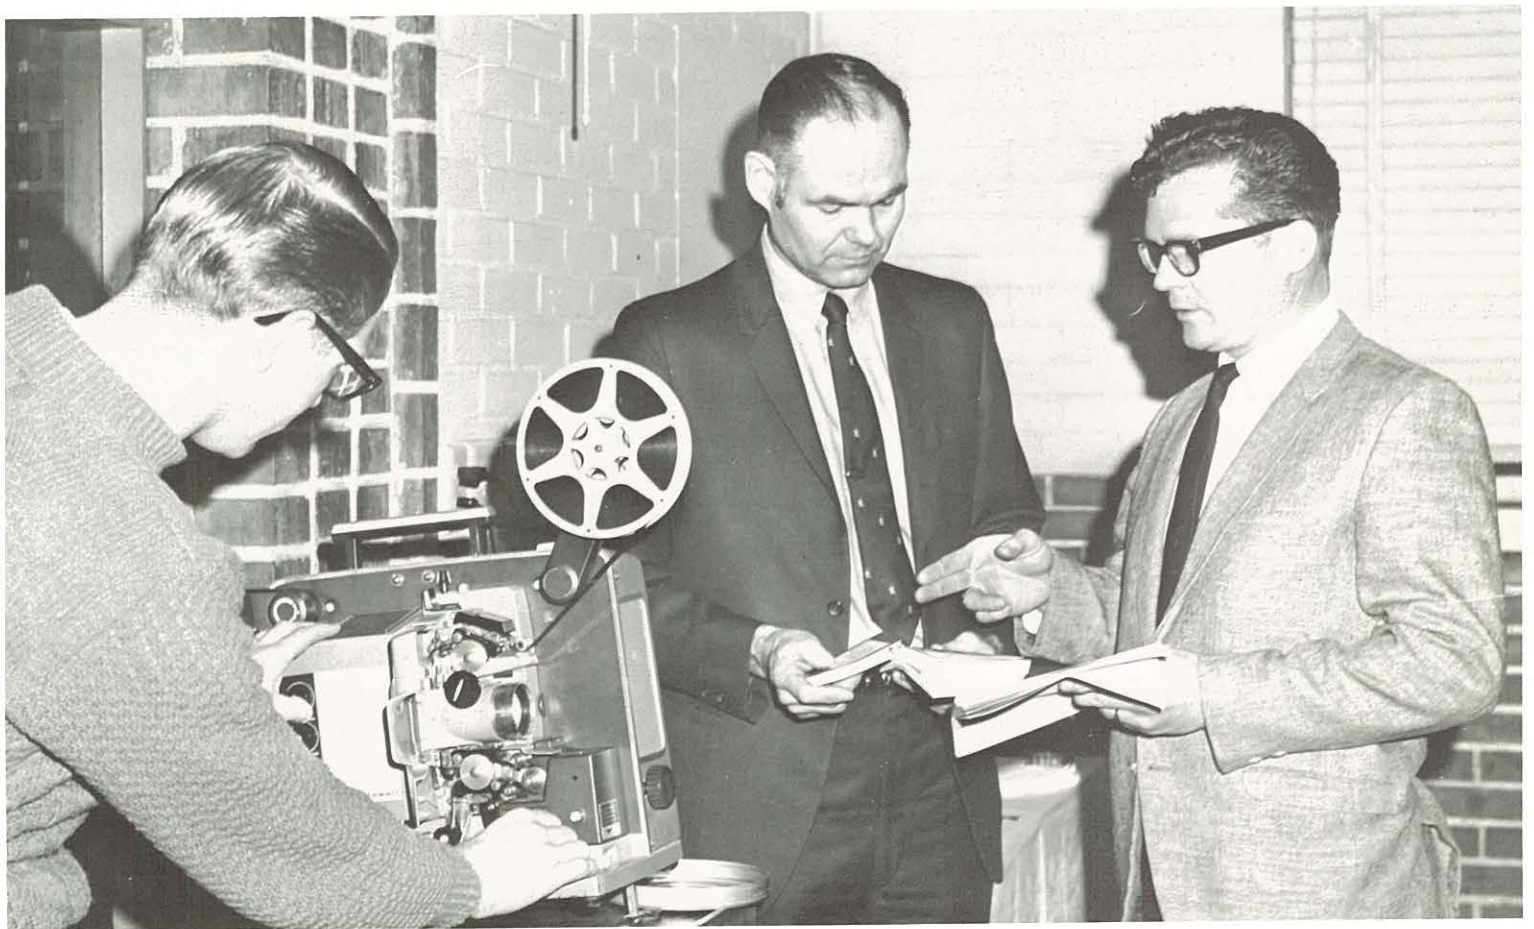

The largest group of members in several years heard various views expressed about contemporary science.

Several field trips were also undertaken. Dr. Donald Tillotson and Mr. Timothy Fuller sponsored the club.

Ben Ikerd; Ruth Birks; Jim Van-Arsdel; Mr. Harrold Curl, Advisor.

Films and a special speaker occupied one meeting of the Sociology Club.

Collegiate Ministerial Association

The Collegiate Ministerial Association brings together future ministers and interested lay people. They hold dialogue sessions with local speakers of varied faiths and with other featured guests on campus.

Special guests this year were Dr. Hurn of the Department of Home Missions (right); Dr. William Great-house of Nazarene Theological Seminary; and Dr. Timothy Smith of Johns Hopkins University.

C.W.B. Extends Outreach Through Zone

Left: Shepherdess Club

Mrs. John Riley, wife of a former pastor and now the college president, advises the Shepherdess Club. The thrust of the group's emphasis is upon understanding the role of a minister's wife.

Membership consists of women whose husbands are studying for full-time Christian service.

Below: C. W. B.

Christian Workers' Band dispersed numerous singing-preaching groups not only to local rest homes and churches but also as far away as the Pacific Coast.

They held monthly sing-spirations and sponsored the annual candlelight service at the clock tower. Through C.W.B. a number of student workers were placed in local churches.

G.M.S. Undertakes Two Projects

Following the precedent of last year's General Missionary Society's active student involvement, G.M.S. took on two such projects this year. During the spring vacation a group of students built a large portion of the Elko, Nevada Nazarene Church (right).

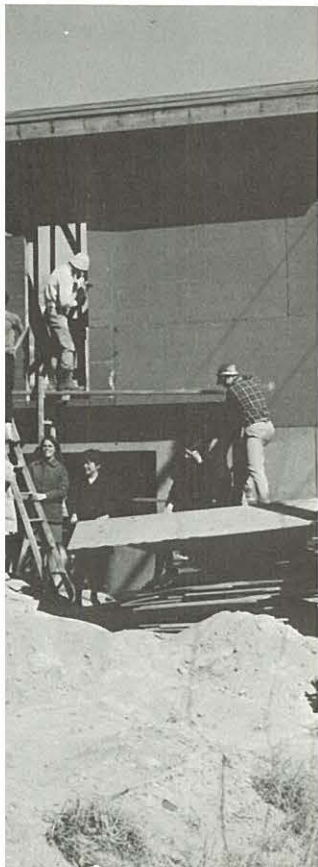

During the summer, a second group began construction of the Jewel Lake Church in Anchorage, Alaska (above).

A film of the Elko, Nevada work helped to publicize the projects. The money for the film was provided by the Department of Home Missions.

Daylene Peterson; Cheryl Bean; Marita Douglas; Alberta Swander; Donna Rogers; Scherlie Friberg; Jan Hurn; Miss Eula Tombaugh, Advisor.

Pi Omicron

Pi Omicron, the home economics club, greatly expanded its activities this year to include a wedding clinic.

The club held a spring fashion show and ended the year with the senior home economics banquet.

The January meeting featured Hawaii, in pictures and food (left).

Gamma Nu Gamma

Gamma Nu Gamma, the women's athletic service organization, supported themselves through the sales of society sweatshirts. The club presented the Homecoming chapel.

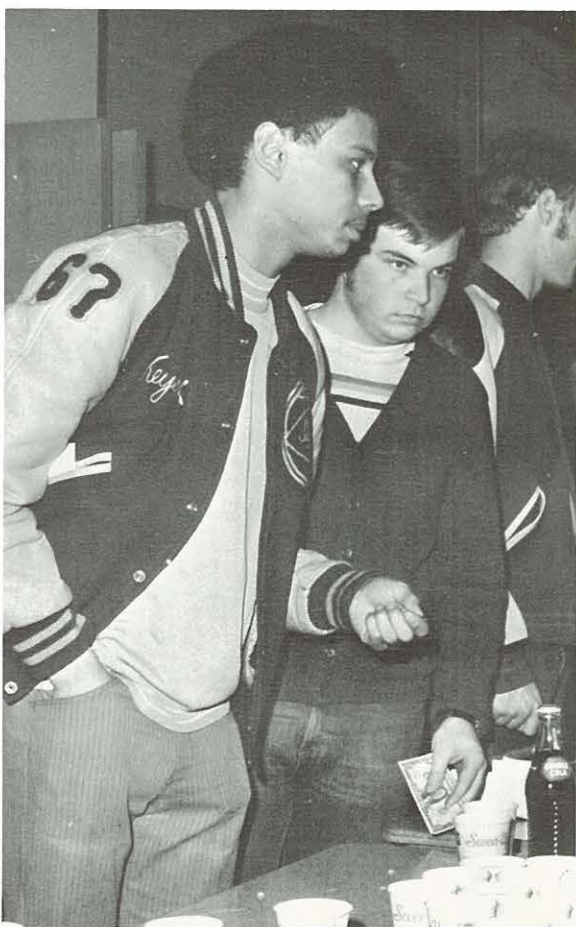

Membership is based on participation in intramural sports.

Future plans of the club include creating a bicycle rental and sponsoring camping trips.

N Club

N.N.C.'s lettermen's club, along with Gamma Nu Gamma, operated the concession stands at the basketball games (below).

N Club also organized and produced the Homecoming pressbook. The president crowns the Homecoming Queen.

Ski Club Films N. N. C. Skiers

Ski Club

Ski Club during the winter months was one of the most active clubs on campus.

They sponsored monthly ski films and speakers. The club organized trips to nearby resorts, such as Anthony Lakes and Brundage Mountain, plus one trip to Sun Valley.

In addition, the club made a film featuring N.N.C. skiers.

P. E. Majors

Physical Education students sponsor activities to correlate with their major. They hold regular meetings, several of which are activity nights in the gym.

The club's main responsibility is collecting tickets at the basketball games.

Foreign Language Students Organize

Spanish Club

Spanish Club was a new organization this year. It met approximately once a month. Its major activity was a Christmas party at the home of the advisors, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Taylor.

A main objective was to improve each member's use of the language. Therefore, all meetings were conducted in Spanish.

French Club

The second language organization, French Club, also originated this year. Primarily student initiated, the group asked Mrs. Lytle, the French professor, to be its advisor.

Her assistance was especially beneficial since she natively speaks French. The monthly meetings were successful according to the members.

Sunshine Club

Sunshine Club began as a joke but quickly became the largest group on campus. Soon everyone displayed the smiles, yellow paper sunbursts, and peace symbols which were the group's emblems.

Its members decorated a bus for the Homecoming Parade (above); sent cheery letters in the mail; and hailed sunny days as being made especially for them.

Choirs Tour Northwest

Both the Northwesterners and Crusader Choir toured the educational zone.

The Northwesterners' tour during second term included northern Idaho and southeastern Washington. The concerts were secular and sacred.

Crusader Choir took its annual trip during April. Oregon and Washington were the sites of the church concerts.

College Choir expanded its voice, also. The first term project was the "Messiah."

During second and third terms concerts were performed jointly with the Boise Philharmonic and the Cathedral of the Rockies choir.

Stage Band Tapes Cartridge

Due to Mr. Willis's leave of absence to work on his doctorate, the Stage Band only presented one concert this year. However, two performances were held instead of the usual one. The professional-like concerts were taped for a stereo cartridge and sold to raise funds.

John Osborne, as "Chicken Man," provided a surprise hilarity at the concerts.

The traveling quartets (opposite page) spend their summer representing the school throughout the Northwest. This year is the second consecutive one for the Master's Men.

The Brass Ensemble accompanied the Northwesterners' fall concert.

Oxford and Culver Halls House Upper-Division Students

Oxford Hall is the upper-division men's residence. Its lounge often holds club meetings and special dialogue sessions with campus guests.

Besides the regular dormitory prayer meetings and parties, the dorm is making plans for the installation of a sauna bath.

Culver Hall is the residence for junior and senior women. Rev. and Mrs. Harold Volk are its head residents.

A feature of this year's activities was the ring passing ceremony to honor recently engaged women.

Rick Skeen, President, and Dr. Arthur Seamans, Head Resident.

Mangum and

In addition to a party per term, Mangum Hall remodeled its lounge in cooperation with the administration. The students themselves repaneled the walls and installed an indirect lighting system.

New furniture and carpeting will be funded by the administration and installed this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Willis, Robbie and Lori, Head Residents.

Dooley Hall renovated its prayer chapels this year. Floors were carpeted and pictures were hung. The lighting was greatly improved by the addition of hanging lamps.

The usual dorm parties and prayer meetings helped create a feeling of unity among the sophomore women.

Chapman Hall again sponsored a bed race with the College of Idaho. After N.N.C. transported the bed to Caldwell, C. of I. forfeited last year.

The annual camp-out was enjoyed by all who participated.

The main improvement in Chapman this year was the renovation of the prayer chapel. Also, a color television was purchased.

Morrison Hall's activities were quite numerous this year. The dorm held a number of parties, including special ones for Chapman Hall and for Prospective Student Day visitors.

Morrison was also in charge of the Homecoming publicity.

Willard Offers Single Rooms

Willard Hall is the most recent addition to men's housing. Its single rooms previously were the nurses' quarters of the Mercy Hospital. Willard Friesen donated the money to purchase the hospital complex for further expansion.

The buildings are located several blocks north of the rest of the campus.

Dorm Council: Jim Gebhardt; Lindsay Enderby; Doug Helling.

John Denney, Head Resident; Alfred Schaar, President.

Thirty Percent of Students Scattered Off-Campus

Approximately one-third of N.N.C.'s student body lives off-campus. Many of them have moved to Nampa recently for their college years.

Vetville, (above), an N.N.C.-owned housing unit, helps alleviate the tight housing for married couples.

Although it is about half as expensive to live off-campus, those students sometimes find it difficult to become assimilated with the rest of the student body.

Judging from their voting record it seems N.N.C. more successfully involves its off-campus students than most Idaho schools.

Athenians Strong In Tourney, Oly's Voted Best Sports

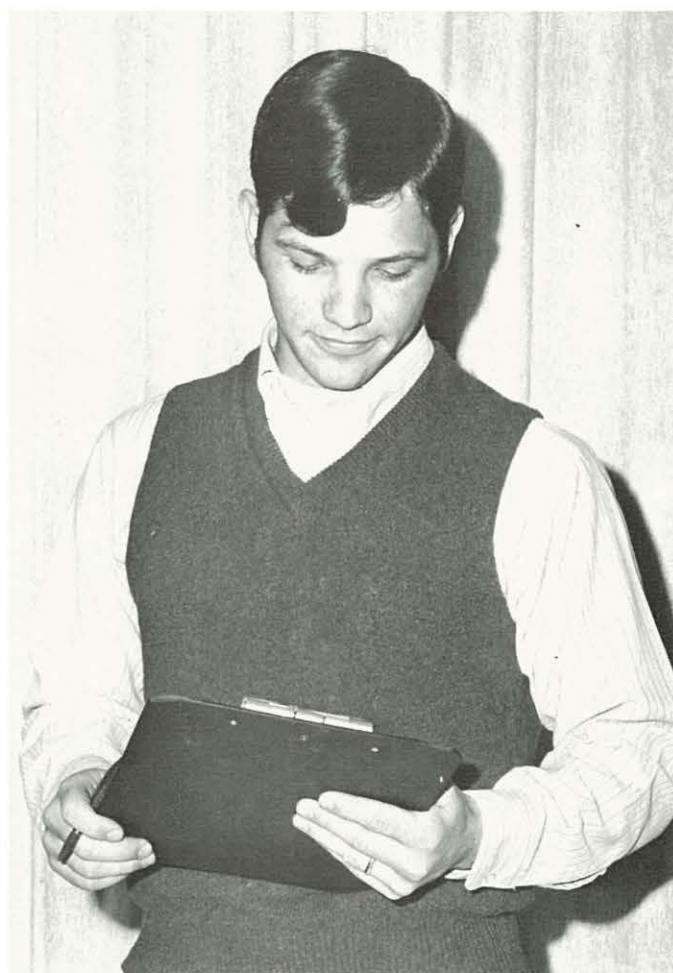

The Athenian men again captured first place in the Mills-Cunningham Basketball Tournament. Individuals receiving honors were: Bob Vandersluis, Alan Caba, Martin Hill, and Jim Rotz.

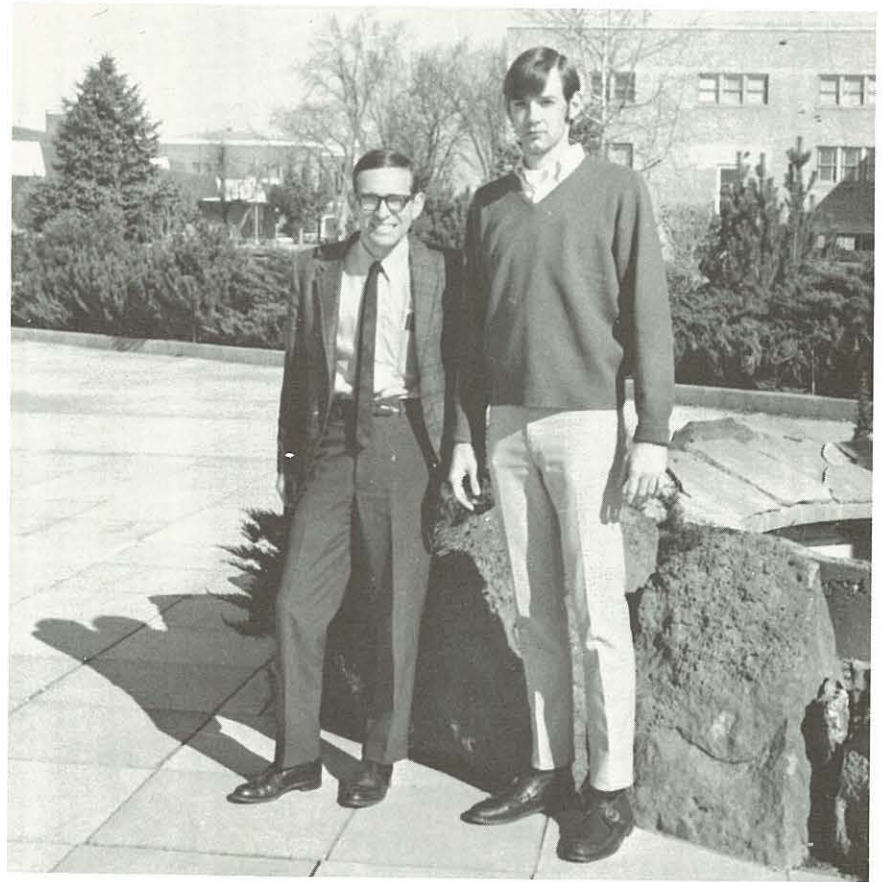

The Olympians won the Sportsmanship Trophy and placed ten members on the All Star teams. The following people earned recognition: Kathy Schoenborn, Joann Gehrke, Ron Alexander, John Brasch, Tom Edwards, Steve Foster, Rod Hanson, Mike Benedick, Darlene Eppes, Kathy Woodward, Gary Skaggs, Dorothy Bundy, and Elaine Lasell.

ADP's Dominate Team Sports, Spartans Take Music and Speech

Ron Seaman, and Jim VanArsdel, Spartan Presidents.

The ADP women won the Hubbard - Long - Wesche Basketball Tournament and helped the men in capturing both team sports trophies.

Individuals worthy of note were Sandy Bennett, Bonnie Dietrich, Elsie Gestrin, Ellen Largent, Tom Litsey, Irene White, Connee Montgomery, and Gary Harris.

Enough Spartans participated in the music and speech events to earn them that trophy. Participating individuals with outstanding records were Judy Hanson, Randy Craker, Verna Wardlaw, Sam Frazier, Terry Litke, Connie Taylor, Lee Dale, Ron Rickard, and Maxine Lister.

LSP's Garner Faculty Loving Cup, SLA's Provide Competition

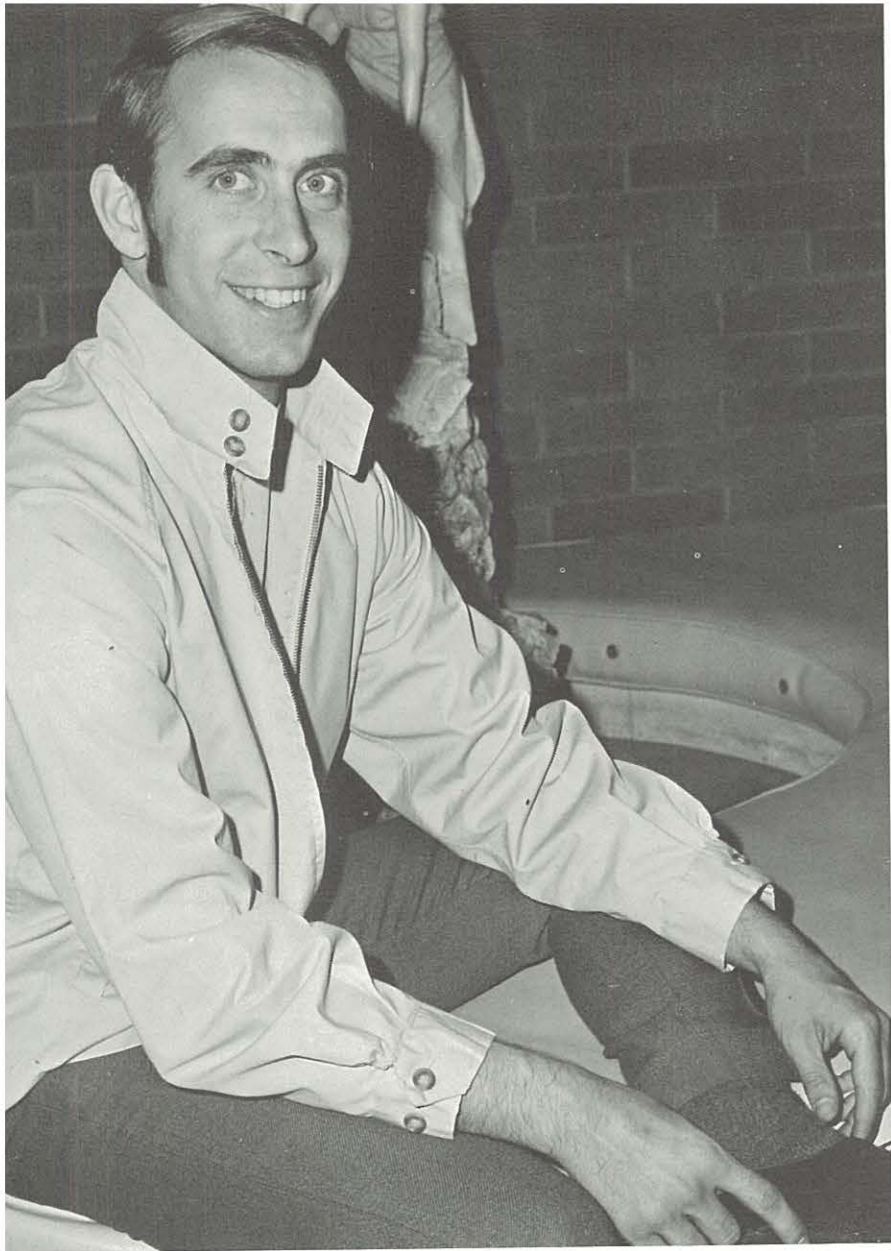

The LSP's lengthened their winning streak by again bringing home the Faculty Loving Cup. Besides the grand trophy, the powerful society received the Individual Points Trophy and had two of its members, Shannon Galloway and Ken Wilde named the outstanding track participants. Other regular standouts were Lonnie Barnhouse, Steve Phelps, Carol Loeber, Marilyn Vail, Ron Manley, Judy Chadwick, Jim Gacey, Julie Wilden, and Greg Jamison.

Although the SLA's had difficulty rounding up teams and/or individual sport participants they offered stout resistance to any notions of forgetting them. Larry Vineyard and Gene Maison received the most recognition.

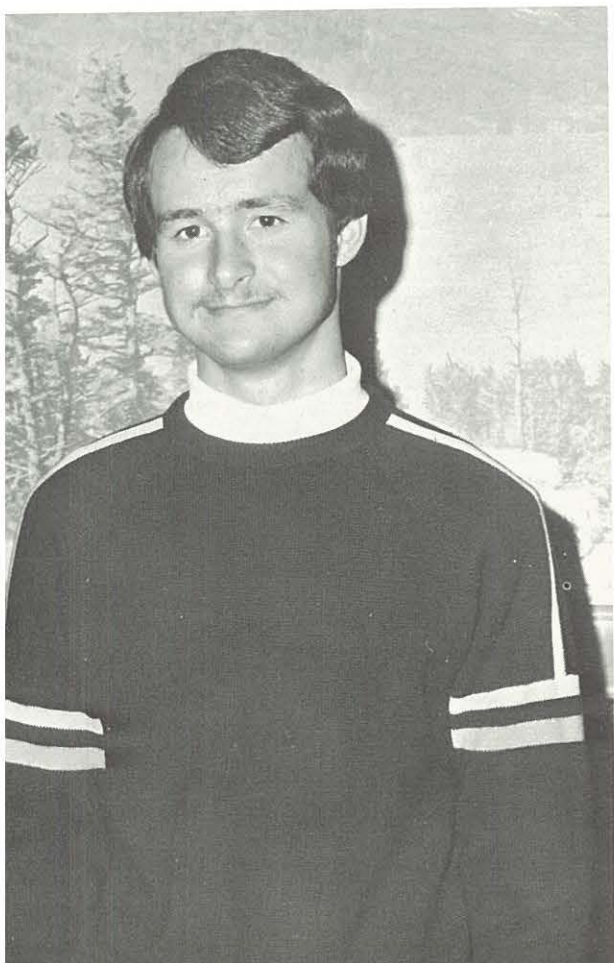

Ron Manley and Terry Smith, LSP Presidents.

Theron Friberg and Lynn Stallings, SLA Presidents.

"Every youth has a quest to make,
For life is the King's highway;
And a joyous heart is the script we take
On the road of Everyday.

Every youth has his gifts to guard
As he fares to a far-off goal —
A body pure, and a mind unmarred,
And the light of a lovely soul.

Every youth has a task of his own,
For the Father has planned it so;
He seeks the way and He alone
Can show him the path to go.

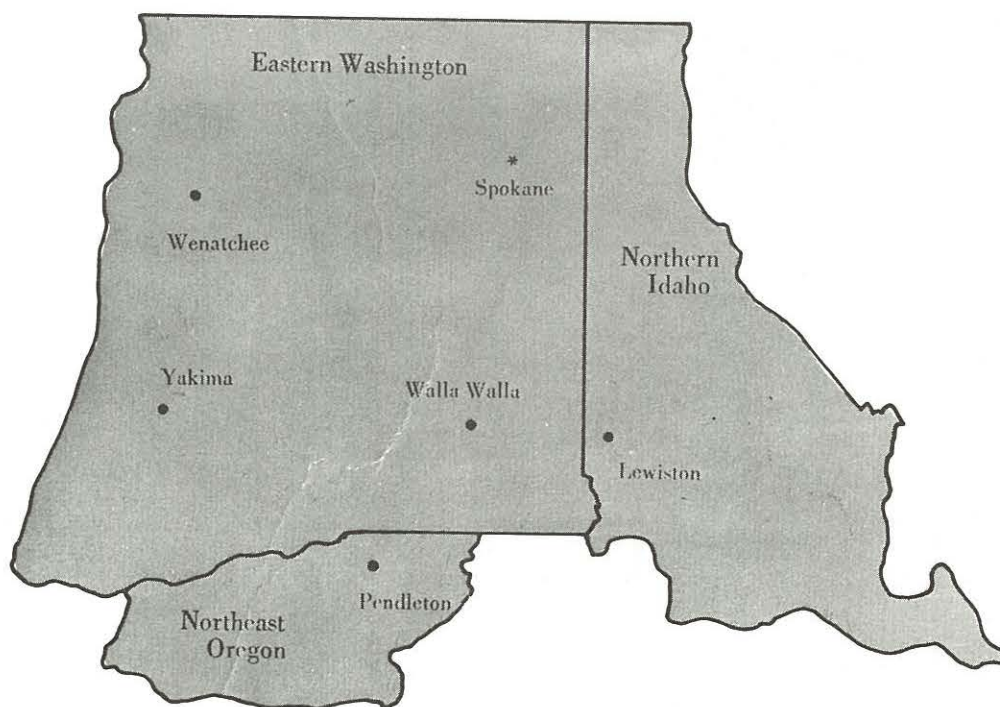

Every youth has a lovely Guide
From the vale to the mountain crest;
For the unseen Friend who walks beside
Is the Way and the End of the Quest"

It Should Never End

We have closed the door. But let's not lock it. This year has been permeated with hope, yet tinged with doubt. It was not a normal year because we are not normal. Your year was to you as my year was to me.

Oasis '70 has permanently recorded as many impressionable moments—times of growth—as was circumstantially permissible. Naturally, we missed some of your favorites. Not all of our senses can be written or pictured. For that reason, save your memories; do not throw away their key. What is contained in them may unlock the future.

These words are no more of an admonishment than is this book. If we remember when, how, and why we have grown, the process will never cease.
